COUNCIL APPROVES RESURFACING OF TAYLOR MILL ROAD

Committee reports Elba's finances good

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The delayed meeting of the Elba City Council was held Thursday evening. All council members were present except council member John W. Sharpless.

Police chief Max Hooks reported the department responded to 38 complaints and issued 25 traffic citations during the past two weeks. The citations included one for violation of the Boom Box ordinance and one for parking in a handicapped zone.

There were 19 criminal arrests during this period and two traffic accidents.

The animal control officer picked up 16 dogs. Two were returned to their owners, six adopted and one stolen.

Hooks requested authorization to purchase two video cameras for the police cars. They will cost $2999 each. Mayor Ricky Haywood recommended approval and councilman Bill Brunson noted the department was under budget and could afford the expenditure. The council approved the purchase unanimously.

Chief Hooks requested the council go into executive session. Following this the council voted to table the matter discussed in executive session, awaiting an opinion of the city attorney.

Monthly bills totaling $19,432.24 were approved for payment. Haywood reported that of this total asphalt mix cost $1,057.24, pool chemicals were $2,873.38, dog pound repairs $2,591.62, street dept chemicals $315.00, recreation concessions $2,071.07, radio repairs $1,964.57, equipment repairs and parts $2,906.07, and insurance on the new dump truck $1,080.00, for almost $15,000 of the total bills.

Brunson reported on behalf of the finance committee that after nine months of operation the finances looked good. He said that administration, police, street were all under budget. He reminded his fellow council members that the city still has $200,000 in short term notes and they should make some principal payments this fiscal year. Even with that expense, Brunson predicts the city should make the bond payment in December on time.

The council approved an amendment to the dog pound ordinance, increasing the first time offense to $25.00 plus $5.00 per day feeding charge. Additional pick-up of dogs will result in increased charges.

The council also approved an increase to $5.00 for issuing business licenses. Previously this charge had been $06. The increase had already been authorized by the Alabama legislature.

Legal notices on both these ordinance amendments are published in this issue of The Elba Clipper. They are effective today, Thursday.

City Clerk Henry Clark reported on a proposal to get some paving done on Taylor Mill Road. He explained that the county commission would apply for a grant to pave two miles within the city limits (from city limits to 203 Bypass) while paying their portion of the road.

The cost to the city will be $37,000 for two miles of much needed road repairs and resurfacing. The council approved the agreement after Haywood assured them there was enough money in the gasoline tax fund to fund the work. The project is dependent upon the county getting approval for the $326,000 grant.

Clark reported receiving a number of complaints about much needed street cleaning.

He said he had contacted the state highway department and they would be in Elba with their sweeper, on state roads, within the week. With the help of work release, Clark expects to do extensive work cleaning other Elba streets. He also plans repairs to the city-owned street sweeper and putting it back on the streets.

Council approved a request to hire two part-time workers to help with this project.

Clark also told council members he was trying to hire a mechanic because of the resignation of the last one.

Elba City School Board members approve three major policy changes

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The Elba City School Board met Thursday evening in the board room. All members were present.

The approval of monthly bills led off the meeting, chaired by Chairman Daniel Stephens.

The board approved three major policy changes, mandated by state regulations: A "No Fight," "Zero Tolerance," and a policy allowing schools to use surveillance cameras and metal detectors were adopted.

Superintendent Charles Pearce announced he planned to publish full details of these new regulations before school starts in August.

The resignation of Mr. Gary Glass from Elba High School was accepted.

No action was taken to fill vacancies at the high school. This will be done at a special called meeting, scheduled for July 27th.

Pearce also updated board members on ongoing capital projects including the bus barn, baseball/softball complex and the bridge/connector road.

Elba's net electric revenue up significantly

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The Elba Water and Electric Board members heard a report Thursday night that net electric revenue was up significantly, due to the hot weather and cost cutting efforts by all employees.

However, in spite of an increase in water rates, the water department continues to operate at a loss. Board members were told the increase has generated an additional $10,000, thereby cutting losses by that amount.

The utility continues to cut payroll and related expenses, however insurance and maintenance cost continue to climb, compared to the previous year.

The percentage of water not billed (leakage, fire plugs, etc.) dropped this year from over 22% to slightly over 16%.

The percentage of electric current not billed (lost to line shortages and other leakages) was only 4.82% last month, however for the year to date it is 5.79% - a half percent above last year's average.

Water supervisor Dennis Coleman reported that the county water system is "on line" i.e. residents are being connected to the system. He said water volume and pressure was higher than expected which will allow for expansion of the customer base in the future.

Coleman reminded board members that the town council had held a special called meeting on Wednesday, July 12th.

Mayor Kathryn Holley verbally notified members of the town council that it was necessary that a meeting be held to discuss the financial status.

According to the minutes of the meeting, all council members were present when the session convened at 5:15 p.m.

Mayor Holley advised the council that the town's revenue was down and had been slowly decreasing during the past four months.

She said June was the first month that the town's sales and use tax was collected by an independent agent.

The mayor said after a one-month billing cycle, the town clerk should have a better understanding on what dates the revenue would be automatically deposited into the general fund.

The mayor told council members that a reimbursement in the amount of $8,893.82 is expected from the Alabama Intertribal Council Job Training Partnership Act, but at the present time, the money has not been received.

bers that projected cost of the installation of the in-town part of the new line (done by city employees) was $192,930.48 after the utility rejected a private contractor bid of $200,000.

THREE KILLED IN 2-CAR CRASH... At approximately 2:05 p.m. (the time at which all watches worn by the victims stopped) last Friday afternoon, a pickup truck apparently ran a stop sign striking a passenger car. One person was pronounced dead at the scene, two others later died of injuries sustained in the wreck, a man and a woman remain in the hospital. A one-year-old child was not hurt in the crash except for bruises from straps on a child restraint seat in which she was riding. The wreck occurred at the intersection of AL Hwy. 134 and Co. Rd. 547 (Damasus Community). The 1986 Ford truck driven by David Welsh, 20, of Route 1, Jack, AL was traveling south on Co. Rd. 547 when it ran through the intersection colliding with a 1990 BMW eastbound on AL Hwy. 134. William Ray Mackley, 18, of Route 1, New Brockton, a passenger in the pick-up was dead at the scene. Welsh was seriously injured. The driver of the BMW, Richard L. Bryan, 24, of Enterprise, died in a local hospital from his injuries. Also a passenger in the car, Rev. Charles L. Sharp, 52, of Enterprise, died in a local hospital as a result of injuries received in the crash. Two other passengers in the car, a mother and daughter, Catherine Bryan, 23, and Destiny Bryan, 1, both of Enterprise, were taken to a local hospital. Mrs. Bryan was later transferred to a Dothan hospital where she underwent emergency surgery. She remains in guarded condition. Her daughter was not injured in the crash thanks to a child restraint seat. Rescue and fire units from Enterprise, New Brockton, and Goodman responded to the wreck. The accident was investigated by Alabama State Trooper Ronnie Whitworth. Other law enforcement agencies assisting state troopers were the District Attorney's office, Coffee County Sheriff's Department, Coroner Tim Whitehead, and Enterprise and New Brockton police officers. No charges have been filed in connection with the accident at this time and the investigation is on-going. Pictured above is the BMW. The pickup truck (not visible in the picture) struck a house to the left of the car. Both vehicles traveled 70 to 75 feet after initial impact.

CHILDREN IN NEED OF SUPERVISION PROGRAM WORKING

Coffee County Chins-Up Camp looking for funds

by Marvin McIlwain
Editor

Once again, it's time for the Chins-Up Camp and additional funds are needed.

This year, 40 youngsters are scheduled to participate in the camp which will begin on July 31st and run through August 3rd.

The youngsters, along with their counselors (1 for every 3 campers), will meet at the Coffee County Vineyard from 8 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. each day of the camp.

Counselors are recruited from churches, schools, law enforcement agencies, and recreational centers. Special efforts are extended to insure these counselors are excellent role models for youth.

The Coffee County Chins-Up Program began in 1991. Since that time, more than 275 CHINS (Children in Need of Supervision) youth have been reached.

During the four-day camp, the youngsters, who are between the ages of 12 and 15, will attend seminars and take part in different activities all designed to build self-esteem.

Cynthia House, a consultant from Knoxville, TN, serves as the camp's director. She will be conducting workshops teaching the participants that they have choices in how they live their lives.

The youth also learn about self-concept, how they see and feel about themselves will make a difference.

Enterprise DARE Officer Cindy Dunaway, who will be serving her fourth year as a counselor, has seen a very positive affect on youngsters who have participated in past camps.

The Coffee County Extension Service heads up the long list of sponsoring agencies who join forces to make the camp happen. They are quick to point out that without the help of ALL the sponsors there would be no Chins-Up Camp.

Assisting the Extension Service are: the Department of Human Resources, area law enforcement agencies, youth services, the city and county school systems, housing authorities, juvenile probation officers, courts, churches, and many, many individuals.

It is estimated that approximately $5,000 to $6,000 is needed to implement this year's camp. Monies are used to provide facilities, food (three meals per day), program directors, transportation for campers, counselors, awards, speakers, etc. Many of the above needs are met by volunteers.

The sponsors' goal has always been to provide the camp at no cost to the campers. So far, they have been able to secure enough community donations to implement the Chins-Up Camp for the past four years.

Each year the camp cost is less because of greater public awareness of the program and the community's response.

Elba man charged with first degree rape of an 8-year-old Opp girl

by Marvin McIlwain

Elba police have arrested an Elba man in connection with the rape of an 8-year-old girl.

According to Elba Investigator Johnny Senn, Christopher Michael Nelson, 18, of 808 Washington Avenue, Elba was arrested on Tuesday, July 11, and charged with rape in the first degree.

The investigation began Monday night, July 10, when the Opp Police Department notified Elba that a possible rape victim was being treated at Mizell Memorial Hospital in Opp.

Police learned that the victim was a resident of Opp; however, the alleged rape had occurred in Elba.

According to Senn, after questioning Nelson, charges were filed and he was taken to the Coffee County Jail.

Nelson was later released on a $10,000 appearance bond. A preliminary

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

The "groovy" talk, or popular language of the streets, these days includes "NOT" when the speaker really means "NOT SO." It goes against the grain, but efforts are made to just ignore the current in word. Then we read this week that the word usage we thought was new, ain't new at all. The dictionaries have acknowledged it for 95 years! The current popular usage comes from some of the currently popular TV shows. On well.

The front page pictures last week of the puppies at the Elba dog pound prompted several phone calls to city hall and at least one adoption. That was the purpose. It would be a better situation if the Elba pound could do as many Humane Societies do - require that all adopted animals be neutered before adoption. The lack of local professionals to do such surgery probably makes it impossible (or impractical) but it should be a goal. It would cut down on the future unwanted animals on the streets and in the pound.

City Clerk Henry Clark, while announcing that someone had stolen a puppy from the dog pound said, "They got the cutest one of the bunch!"

There is a federal lawsuit underway on the courthouse in Enterprise. The complaint is that it doesn't come up to standards for handicapped persons. We agree to that, however at the time the suit was filed commissioners swear work was progressing to meet those requirements. This has caused a number of people to question what is really behind the lawsuit... concern for the handicapped or another push for a new courthouse in Enterprise, with a federal judge mandating the method of raising the funds for repaying the borrowed money. Regardless, we hear there is a settlement in the works. The details haven't been released, but our common sense tells us that if renovations were underway BEFORE the suit was filed, then any pretrial settlement surely would contain something more than was in place originally. Do you reckon they plan to build that new courthouse... and if so, where?

The Alabama legislature is considering an education bill which will cut some 2,000 scholarships annually to teachers seeking their master degree. That is one budget cut we can't get real upset about. While admitting support of continuing education for teachers, we don't put it on the level with funding for basic education of children. Besides, teachers are already earning an above the average Alabama salary, will get a raise with the higher degree and if taxpayers must stop funding something... sorry teach!

Casino and lottery backers have not admitted defeat, they only acknowledge a temporary setback in their efforts to legalize their pet project in the State of Alabama. Citizens of this state can rest assured the issues ain't dead, not by a long shot! Supporters are probably already plotting ways to overcome the mistakes of 1995 in their effort to pass the proposals in 1996.

More Whitewater hearings got underway Tuesday in Washington. This is the investigation stemming from an Arkansas Savings and Loan failure. The bank had funded a failed real estate venture in which President and Mrs. Clinton were investors. The question is did the real estate deal hasten the failure of the savings & loan? Democrats in Washington are saying it is just Republicans trying to embarrass the Clintons... we don't know. They have seemed to give investigators a lot of info in the past but... our own Senator Richard Shelby said Tuesday morning there was questionable handling of documents immediately following the death of White House Counsel Vincent Foster. We would like to believe the White House and the President of the United States, but then we KNOW AND BELIEVE Richard Shelby... so where do we go from here?

FROM THE HOUSE

Congressman
Terry Everett

Conservatives Prove to be Adept at House Cleaning

The new conservative Congress took hold last January with a vision and a mandate to roll back the size and scope of federal government. Knowing that leadership is best accomplished by example, this same conservative Congress has chosen to simultaneously reduce waste in its own operations. Six months later, we're making great progress. After four years of neglect, the U.S. House of Representatives had grown bloated, expensive and inefficient.

Committee staff positions had ballooned from 450 in 1960 to almost 2,000 in 1994, and an additional 1,000 employees provided support services through an archaic management structure that was never evaluated for cost-effectiveness.

In just six months, the new conservative Congress has radically transformed the once-bloated House. With a strong emphasis on accountability while raising performance levels and lowering taxpayer costs, the House has cut its operational bills by $155 million.

We started by cutting our committee staffs and budgets by one-third. This step alone eliminated more than 620 positions and saved the taxpayers $67 million.

We also opened up the committee funding process so that budgets are discussed and listed in the public record. Previously, congressional spending had been hidden from the public by spreading it out in several different publications which were not widely available to the public. And we cut support staff by a third as well.

House conservatives have approved the first ever independent outside audit of the House's books and operations, so our shareholders — the American taxpayers — will now know how their House is being run. The major accounting firm Price Waterhouse will report their findings soon, helping us find more ways to streamline, downsize and increase efficiency. This is something that other federal agencies are already addressing, so why not Congress too?

The infamous perks of Congress haven't been spared the budget ax either. For example, daily delivery to congressional offices has been stopped, saving the taxpayers $400,000 a year.

Lobbyists are no longer granted free parking in House garages as in the past. Together with staff reductions, this reform has allowed two whole congressional parking lots to be opened to the public, making it easier for constituent visits.

Finally, congressional franking budgets have been hit. The ability congressmen have to send out mass mailings has been reduced by one-third, or an average of $60,000 for each congressional office. This is the largest such reduction in history.

Perhaps most basic of all, the very first public law passed by the 104th Congress this year and signed by the President, was the Congressional Accountability Act, which forces Senators and Representatives to live by the same employment and other regulations they have imposed on private businesses.

Not bad for six months worth of work, but there's plenty more to accomplish. As I said up front, leadership comes from example. The new conservative House is working hard to set that example.

Respectfully yours,
James B. Jolley

Each legislator should look behind the irrational consequences of this platform and move forward to destroy the products each law has left behind for the last three decades. Such action will move our state forward and relieve

Southeast AL Gas District Bd. of Directors approve lower natural gas rates

Southeast Alabama Gas District's Board of Directors has approved lower rates for natural gas customers. The lower rates are projected to reduce revenues by approximately $1.5 million over the next twelve months.

On March 15, 1995, Southern Natural Gas Company filed a proposed Stipulation and Agreement with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) which would resolve all Gas Supply Realignment (GSR) and rate cases currently pending before the FERC and the United States Court of Appeals. Southern requested the FERC authorize it to place the settlement rates and the settlement GSR surcharges into effect on an interim basis. The FERC agreed and the settlement rates are in effect with respect to all its supporting customers which includes the District.

The significant benefits of the stipulation to area residents are lower gas rates and a three-year moratorium on general rate increases. The lower rates will be effective June 20, 1995 for all customers except the Industrial Interruptible customers whose rate will be effective July 1, 1995.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor and friends,

I see where the Federal Judiciary is getting into our Coffee County Courthouse affair.

We are going to have to have one or two new courthouses before long. It will be pushed down our throats. If we repair the two courthouses that we have now, we will have to cough up some more money and how are we going to do that? It will come in the form of additional taxes. This new repair work and remodeling will only last a short time and we will have to come up with some more money and repair again.

The chapter way around all this is to allow all our voters to vote on the least pain that we can have and that is a tax to build one new courthouse in the county which will consolidate all our county government activities and this will save our county money which in turn decreases the amount of taxes that we will have to pay.

If we do not take immediate steps to do this we are going to get something that we do not want.

We can do like we did one time before by passing around a petition for one courthouse for the county for each congressional office. This is the largest such reduction in history.

Perhaps most basic of all, the very first public law passed by the 104th Congress this year and signed by the President, was the Congressional Accountability Act, which forces Senators and Representatives to live by the same employment and other regulations they have imposed on private businesses.

Not bad for six months worth of work, but there's plenty more to accomplish. As I said up front, leadership comes from example. The new conservative House is working hard to set that example.

Think! Write! Workshop held at Elba Elementary School

THINK! WRITE! WORKSHOP. The week of July 10-14 the Wiregrass Writing Project of Troy State University held their Think! Write! Workshop at Elba Elementary School. Participation of both students and teachers was fantastic. There were two groups of students: The Sprouts (Grades 2-4) enrolled 19 and the Sprigs (Grades 5-9) enrolled 17.

Spirits were high as students wrote about nutrition after experiencing books, hands-on materials and various media.

Teachers that participated: Patricia Nicholson, Candace Vaughan, and June Grantham.

THINK! WRITE!. Participants are writing about nutrition this week. Here they are getting ready to make an ENORMOUS SANDWICH out of "health" food and "junk" food. Afterwards, they will sample Chocolate-Covered Anis as dessert. Pictured above are: Megan Parrish, Kimberly Ward, Katie Crowe, Sheena Flowers, Katie Grimes, Kimberly Farris, Kristy Ward, Deann Smith, Brandi Harrison, Katrina Farris, Carla Roberts, Jason Curran, Blake Lambert, Judy Williams (instructor), Austin Boothe, Justin Allen, and Chris Brunson.

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

A lot of folks around town have been complaining about how there is nothing for the kids to do now that ball season is over; however, nothing could be farther from the truth at the Mularz house. Melanie went with a church group to eat pizza and play games last week, and this week has already been to the zoo in Panama City and to WaterWorld, while Melissa has attended basketball and volleyball camps, as well as finding time to spend the night with friends. Nothing to do? Not at our house!

DIXIE MINOR ALL-STARS WERE EXCITING TEAM

The Elba Dixie Minor All-Stars hosted last week's Sub-District Baseball Tournament and really kept the home fans on the edge of their seats as they won three games in their final at-bat, lost one game in the top of the sixth and played Troy tough before falling in the tournament finals. The Elba players and coaches worked hard getting ready for the tournament and displayed a true "never say die" attitude with their effort in every single game. The players and coaches are all to be congratulated for their play, and sportsmanship.

COACH WOOD ENJOYING EARLY DAYS OF RETIREMENT

I talked with former Elba coach Mack Wood last week and he laughed and said that he had been sleeping in and playing a lot of golf. He kind of apologized for his new routine, but then added "somebody's got to do it." After fighting the high school football wars for 30 years I'd say he deserves his days off, and all the golf he wants to play.

TENNIS LESSONS OFF TO GOOD START

The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation is sponsoring tennis lessons at Hawkins-Williams Park, and after two weeks the lessons are going full speed and more kids are showing up every day. Tennis pro Wink Morris has his students working hard, but having fun, and many of the students already look mighty good. If your child wants something to do, take 'em up to the park on Monday or Wednesday mornings and give it a shot.

Fall to Troy Americans in finals

Dixie Minor All-Stars place second

The Elba Dixie Minor All-Stars concluded play in the Sub-District 1 Dixie Minor Baseball Tournament last week and placed second in the seven-team event after claiming three exciting wins.

In games reported in last week's Clipper, the All-Stars claimed wins over the Troy Nationals 8-7 and the Greenville Americans 10-9, while losing to Luverne 8-7.

Following are highlights of the final two games:

ELBA 4 LUVERNE 3

Elba pushed across two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to rally and claim a wild 4-3 win over Luverne.

Luverne jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the game, only to see Elba cut the lead to 2-1 in the bottom of the second on an rbi single by Derrick Thomas.

The Luverne lead went to 3-1 in the fourth; however, Elba again rallied and this time chopped the lead to 3-2 when Justin Allen singled and raced home on an rbi double by Ralston Moore.

Elba's first batter got out in the bottom of the sixth and it looked like the All-Stars were in trouble, but Elba's "never say die" attitude again came through as Marcus Henderson singled and tied the game on an rbi double off the bat of Kyle English. English then scored on a game-winning hit by Colby Capps and Elba had the wild 4-3 win.

Ralston Moore got 2 hits to lead Elba at the plate, while Kyle English got 1 hit and scored 2 runs.

TROY AM 7 ELBA 1

The Elba All-Stars saw their dreams of a Sub-District title slip away last Tuesday night as the Troy Americans claimed the title with a 7-1 win.

Elba grabbed a 1-0 lead in the opening inning on an rbi single by Brandon Petty; however, the Americans tied the score at 1-1 in the second and then slowly pulled away to claim the 7-1 win, and the right to advance to the District Tournament.

Brandon Petty's hit was the only hit Elba managed in the game, while Matthew Curran scored the lone Elba run.

Brandon Petty got 6 hits in 13 at-bats, scored 4 runs and knocked in 4 runs to lead Elba at the plate, while Marcus Henderson got 5 hits in 13 at-bats, scored 5 runs and collected 3 rbi's. Other leading hitters included Ralston Moore (4-9, 3 runs scored and 4 rbi's), Kyle English (4-12, 5 runs scored and 5 rbi's).

Jason Curran (3-8, 3 runs scored and 4 rbi's) and Colby Capps (3-10, 2 runs scored and 5 rbi's).

Che Vaughan signs with Troy State

Elba's Che Vaughan ended months of speculation last week when he signed a baseball scholarship with Troy State University.

Vaughan, one of the most highly-recruited players in South Alabama, had been offered numerous scholarships by junior colleges in Alabama and Florida, and had been offered a scholarship by at least one other four-year school, but decided to remain close to home and signed with the Division I Trojans.

"I want to a camp at Troy State this summer and really liked the school, the facilities and Coach Mayotte," said Vaughan. "I was tempted to sign last before school got out and almost signed a couple of times with junior colleges, but I'm glad I waited."

As a senior, Vaughan batted .313 at Elba High School, with 31 doubles and 7 home-runs, as well as 5 stolen bases.

"Che is a very talented athlete and an exceptional baseball player," stated Elba's Coach David Lowery. "he will have to work hard at the next level, but he is a hard worker and there is no doubt he has the skills to make an impact at the college level."

Vaughan was an outfielder and pitcher for Coach Lowery's Elba Tigers, but is expected to be used solely in the outfield at Troy State.

Che is the son of Ronnie and Allona Vaughan, of Elba.

PROUD COACHES WITH PRIZED PUPIL... Two proud coaches and a very proud football player were in attendance recently when the Alabama Sports-writers Association held its annual "Awards Banquet" in Birmingham. Former Elba football standout Ronald McKinnon was honored as the state's "Top Small College Athlete," while his coaches in high school and college shared in the honor. Pictured above are (l-r) Mack Wood, former coach at Elba High School; Ronald McKinnon; and Bobby Wallace, coach at the University of North Alabama.

Dixie Youth Stars drop from tourney

The Elba Dixie Youth All-Stars were eliminated from the Dixie Youth Sub-District 2 Tournament last week when they fell to the Enterprise Americans 2-1.

Elba grabbed a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Matt Windham led-off with a walk and later scored on an rbi double by Dustin Harris, but managed only three baserunners the remainder of the game and failed to add to its run total.

Enterprise scored one run in the fifth and then took the winning run in the sixth on a solo home run to claim the 2-1 win.

Brandon Salter got 2 hits, pitched a six-hitter and struck-out 14 batters to lead Elba in the loss.

The youngsters had been reading books about prehistoric times and animals. During a break from their "reading session," they put their artistic abilities to work. They drew dinosaurs and other items and animals which were in existence many, many years ago. Looks like a lot of fun!
